

10.0 Verification Procedures [24 CFR Part 5, Subparts B, D, E and F; 24 CFR 982.158]

HUD regulations require that Pensacola Housing verify applicants' and participants' eligibility, Total Tenant Payment (TTP), and family share before initial lease up and at least annually during program participation. In order to meet this requirement, Pensacola Housing must verify the preferences, income, assets, allowable deductions, household composition, citizenship status, disability status (if applicable) and student status (if applicable) of applicant and participant families. This chapter explains Pensacola Housing's procedures and standards of verification for these items.

Pensacola Housing's verification requirements are designed to maintain program integrity. Applicants and program participants must provide true and complete information to Pensacola Housing whenever information is requested. Pensacola Housing will pursue verification through all sources at its disposal if information is received that indicates the family has income or circumstances other than what the family has reported. Before requesting information from third-party sources, Pensacola Housing will obtain proper authorization from the family.

Pensacola Housing may also require releases to collect a family's IRS data, or to perform a credit check, to evaluate the family's description of its income compared to its IRS reported income, credit relationships, and recurring financial obligations.

10.1 Timeframes for Verification

At the time of initial voucher issuance, and for interim reexaminations, verifications may not be more than 60 days old.

For annual reexaminations, moving vouchers, and port vouchers, upfront verification may not be more than 120 days old, and participant-supplied verification documents must be current within 90 days of the recertification interview.

10.2 Methods of Verification [Notice PIH 2017-12]

Pensacola Housing will verify information through the methods of verification acceptable to HUD, in the following order:

1. Upfront income verification via HUD's Enterprise Income Verification (EIV) system;
2. Upfront income verification using non-HUD system;
3. Original or authentic third-party written document;
4. Third-party written verification form;
5. Third-party verbal verification;
6. Self-certification/self-declaration.

Pensacola Housing will start by pursuing upfront sources of verification. If upfront verification isn't available, Pensacola Housing will ask the applicant or participant for original third-party documents. If original third-party documents aren't available to the applicant or participant, or aren't returned by the deadline, Pensacola Housing will contact third parties to request that they complete Pensacola Housing's written verification forms. If third-party verification forms aren't returned within 10 business days, Pensacola Housing will attempt to reach the third-party via phone for verbal verification. Finally, if third-party sources won't provide verbal verification, Pensacola Housing will ask the applicant or participant to provide a written self-declaration.

In any situation where third-party verification wasn't used, Pensacola Housing will attach an explanation to the client file explaining why.

10.2.1 Upfront Verification via EIV

HUD's EIV system is Pensacola Housing's preferred method of third-party verification whenever it is available. EIV makes integrated income data available from one source, via the Internet, for PHAs to use to improve income verification during required income reexaminations. EIV provides the following information:

1. Social Security (SS) benefits
2. Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits
3. Dual Entitlement benefits
4. Medicare premium information
5. Disability status (in some cases)
6. New hire information (W-4)
7. Quarterly wages for federal and non-federal employees
8. Quarterly unemployment compensation benefits

EIV's Income Report for participants is considered independent third-party verification of participant-reported income. However, the EIV Income Report is not available to Pensacola Housing for applicants, since EIV doesn't generate an Income Report for this group. Therefore, for applicants, for participants receiving sources of household income that aren't included in the EIV report, or for participants who dispute the information in their EIV Report or indicate they have recent changes, Pensacola Housing must use other forms of verification.

10.2.2 Non-EIV Upfront Verification

When available, Pensacola Housing will use state or national employment information data banks for upfront verification.

10.2.3 Third-Party Authentic Documents

In the event that upfront verification (whether EIV or non-EIV) is unavailable, disputed, or out of date, Pensacola Housing will utilize documents provided by the family as the primary source of verification, if the information appearing in the documents is complete.

All such documents, excluding any documents that prohibit the viewer from copying them, will be photocopied and retained in the applicant/participant file.

Pensacola Housing will accept the following documents from the family provided that the document is such that tampering would be easily noticed:

1. Printed wage stubs;
2. Computer print-outs from the employer;
3. Signed letters;
4. Social Security Administration letters/printouts;
5. Veterans Administration letters/printouts;
6. City or county court letters/printouts;
7. Award letters for TANF assistance; and
8. Payment records from the Office of Child Support Enforcement.

Pensacola Housing will accept legible photocopies or faxed documents with phone confirmation by Pensacola Housing staff or comparison to historical documents in the family's file.

If upfront verification is received after third-party documents have been accepted, and there's a discrepancy, Pensacola Housing will utilize a third-party verification form to attempt to resolve the discrepancy.

10.2.4 Third-Party Written Verification Form

When upfront verification isn't available and the applicant or participant is unable to produce original third-party documents, or if the third-party documents that were provided are insufficient or appear to be altered, then Pensacola Housing will attempt to verify information directly with third parties through the use of written verification forms.

Pensacola Housing will not delay processing of an application or review beyond 10 business days because a third-party information provider does not return verification in a timely manner.

10.2.5 Third-Party Verbal Verification

Verbal third-party verification will be used when written third-party verification is not available or is delayed, or when Pensacola Housing staff determines that additional verification is needed after reviewing third-party authentic documents or a third-party written verification form.

When third-party verbal verification is used, Pensacola Housing staff will originate the call. Housing staff will document the name and job title of the person contacted, the date of the conversation, and the facts provided.

10.2.6 Tenant Self-Declaration

As a last resort, or in situations where information cannot be verified by a third party or by review of documents, such as when a provider would charge the family for the information, the family will be required to submit a written self-declaration verifying that the information provided is accurate.

Self-declaration means a certification/statement made under penalty of perjury.

10.3 Release of Information [24 CFR 5.230]

It is a family obligation to sign consent forms and to supply information requested by Pensacola Housing or HUD. All adult household members will be required to sign Release of Information forms.

Each member requested to consent to the release of specific information will be provided with a copy of the appropriate forms for their review and signature.

Family refusal to cooperate with the HUD-prescribed verification system will result in denial of admission, or termination of assistance.

10.4 Use of the EIV Income Discrepancy Report

The EIV Income Discrepancy Report is a trend report provided by HUD. It is a tool for identifying families that might have concealed or underreported their household income.

Pensacola Housing will review the EIV Income Discrepancy Report for each household during the annual recertification process, and at the time of any other required recertifications, such as for a mid-contract move.

If a household appears on the EIV Income Discrepancy Report at any of these times, Pensacola Housing staff will follow the steps detailed in Appendix 1 of this Administrative Plan, "Using the EIV Discrepancy Report."

10.5 Items to be Verified [24 CFR 982.516]

Pensacola Housing will verify the following items:

1. All income, including regular contributions and gifts;
2. Student status, including for high school students who are 18 or over;
3. Current assets: net family assets total less than $5,000. For both applicants and participants, if net family assets total less than $5,000, self-declaration will be accepted as verification. Pensacola Housing's application form or recertification paperwork, which is signed by all adult family members, will serve as the declaration. No additional documentation (such as bank statements) will be required. Note that for HCV program purposes, "current assets" include assets disposed of for less than fair market value during the 2 years prior to the certification;

4. Current assets: net family assets total $5,000 or more. For both applicants and participants, third-party verification documents (such as bank statements, warranty deeds, etc.) will be required when net family assets total $5,000 or more. Note that for HCV program purposes, “current assets” include assets disposed of for less than fair market value during the 2 years prior to the certification;
5. Child care expenses, in situations where paying for child care allows an adult family member to be employed, to seek employment, or to further his or her education;
6. Disability status of a household member. Verification will be used only for determination of preferences, allowances or deductions;
7. Total medical expenses of all family members, in households whose head, spouse or co-head is elderly or disabled, for the purpose of determining the medical expense deduction;
8. Disability assistance expenses. Verification of this category will include only those costs associated with attendant care or auxiliary apparatus for a disabled household member, the use of which allows any adult household member, including the disabled household member, to be employed;
9. Citizenship or eligible immigrant status;
10. Social Security Numbers, for all family members who have been assigned a Social Security Number; and
11. Verification of reduction in benefits for non-compliance. Pensacola Housing will not process a reduction in tenant rent if the reduction is based on reduction of welfare benefit because of fraud or non-compliance. Before denying a family’s request for such a tenant rent reduction, Pensacola Housing will obtain written verification from the welfare agency stating that the family’s benefits were reduced for fraud or non-compliance.

10.6 Verification of Income [24 CFR 982.516]

This section defines the methods Pensacola Housing will use to verify various types of income.

10.6.1 Verifying Income Using Actual Past Income

For annual reexaminations of program participants, Pensacola Housing determines annual income based on actual past income received within the last 12 months, as defined in HUD notice PIH 2013-03.

For this verification method, “actual past income” is defined as the most recent 4 quarters’ worth of income information available in the EIV system. Because the EIV Income Report provides actual earnings data verified by a third party, the program participant is not required to provide additional third-party documentation (such as pay stubs, payroll summary reports, or unemployment benefit notices) when this verification method is used.

Pensacola Housing staff will review the EIV data being used to calculate income with the participant at the annual recertification interview. If the participant reports a change in circumstances, or disputes the EIV-reported income information and is unable to provide acceptable documents to resolve the dispute, Pensacola Housing will request written third-party verification.

For example, if a program participant lost their job, changed jobs, or reduced their hours in the months subsequent to the time period covered in EIV, then at the participant's request Pensacola Housing will use the more recent income information provided by the participant, which will be verified using third-party documents (such as pay stubs, payroll summary reports, or unemployment benefit notices) or through written third-party verification.

For any income sources not available in the EIV Income Report, Pensacola Housing will use the verification methods described in Sections 10.6.2 through 10.6.10.

10.6.2 Employment Income

When the "actual past income" method of income verification is not available, or has been disputed by the participant, acceptable methods of verification of employment income include the following, in order of preference:

1. Wage reports from state or national data banks;
2. At least two "current and consecutive" check stubs or earning statements, which indicate the employee's name, gross pay, frequency of pay, and year-to-date earnings;
3. An employment verification form (EVF) completed by the employer;
4. Verbal confirmation of the employee's gross pay, frequency of pay, and year-to-date earnings provided over the phone to a Pensacola Housing staff member by the employer;
5. Income tax return forms for the most recent tax year; and
6. Self-declarations (accompanied by income tax returns where possible) signed by the family. Self-declarations may be used for verifying self-employment income, or income from tips and other gratuities.

In cases where there are questions about the validity of information provided by the family, Pensacola Housing will require the most recent federal income tax statements.

If the applicant or participant doesn't provide documented proof of federal tax data, Pensacola Housing may attempt to obtain proof from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) using third-party verification. Applicants and program participants may be requested to sign an authorization for release of information from the IRS for this purpose.

Where doubt regarding income exists, referrals to the IRS for confirmation may be made on a case-by-case basis.

10.6.3 Employment Verification Forms (EVF)

Pensacola Housing's EVF asks the employer to specify:

1. Dates of employment;
2. Amount and frequency of pay;
3. Date of the last pay increase;
4. Likelihood of change of employment status, and effective date of any known salary increase during the next 12 months;
5. Year-to-date earnings; and
6. Estimated income from overtime, tips, and bonus pay expected during next 12 months.

10.6.4 Social Security, Supplementary Security Income (SSI), Disability Income, and Pensions

EIV information may be used to document the file, rather than having the subject obtain statements from the Social Security Administration.

For applicants, or for participants whose income data doesn't appear in EIV, acceptable methods of verification include the following:

1. Award or benefit notification letter prepared and signed by the providing agency; or
2. Computer report obtained online or in hard copy.

10.6.5 Unemployment Compensation

The acceptable method of verification is a benefit report obtained online or in hard copy from the unemployment office stating payment dates and amounts.

10.6.6 Welfare Payments or General Assistance

The acceptable method of verification is a computer report obtained online or in hard copy from the benefit agency stating payment dates and amounts.

10.6.7 Alimony, Palimony, and Child Support Payments

Acceptable methods of verification include the following, in order of preference:

1. Computerized print-out of support payment history from Office of Support Enforcement;
2. Copy of a separation or settlement agreement or, if none was filed with the courts, a divorce decree stating the amount and type of support and payment schedules; or
3. A letter from the person paying the support, if support agreement has not been filed with the courts.

If payments are irregular, the family must provide one of the following forms of verification depending on circumstances:

1. A welfare notice of action showing amounts received by the welfare agency for child support; or
2. A written statement from an attorney certifying that a collection or enforcement action has been filed (if a support agreement wasn't filed through the courts).

10.6.8 Net Income from a Business

In order to calculate income from a business, Pensacola Housing will require the family to submit a copy of their most recent tax return, if one was filed. Pensacola Housing will project annual income based on the net amount the family declares (not gross), unless there is a pattern of under-reporting income established through a review of 2 previous years' worth of IRS and financial documents.

Acceptable verification documents for business income include the following, in order of preference:

1. IRS Form 1040, including:
 - a. Schedule C (Small Business);
 - b. Schedule E (Rental Property Income);
 - c. Schedule F (Farm Income); and
 - d. If accelerated depreciation was used on the tax return or financial statement, an accountant's calculation of depreciation expense computed using straight-line depreciation rules.
2. Audited or unaudited financial statement(s) of the business;
3. Credit report or loan application; or
4. Documents such as manifests, ledgers, appointment books, cash books, bank statements, and receipts. These documents will be used as a guide for the prior six months (or lesser period if the business has been operational for less than six months) to project income for the next 12 months. If such documents are not available at certification, the family will be advised to start maintaining them so they'll be available for future recertifications.

10.6.9 Child Care Business

If an applicant or participant is operating a child care business, income will be verified as with any other self-owned business, as described in Section 10.6.8. If the family has filed a tax return, the family will be required to provide it.

If the applicant or participant has stopped offering child care services, third-party verification will be sent to the applicant or participant's former client(s). Pensacola Housing will also accept a letter from the client(s) verifying that the applicant or participant is no longer their child care provider.

10.6.10 Recurring Contributions

The family must furnish a written declaration containing the following information from the person or persons who provides the contributions:

1. Contact information for the person who provides the contributions;
2. The value of the contributions;
3. The regularity (dates) of the contributions; and
4. The purpose of the contributions.

10.7 Families Reporting Zero Income

Pensacola Housing will review the EIV Report for all participant families reporting zero income. If there are minors residing in the household, Pensacola Housing will verify the absence of child support income through the Office of Support Enforcement. If there is a previous history of Social Security or SSI income, Pensacola Housing will require verification of the date the benefit was terminated.

Applicant and participant families claiming to have no income may be required to complete an income interview.

Pensacola Housing will pursue verification through all sources at its disposal if information is received that indicates the family has income or circumstances other than what the family has reported.

Pensacola Housing may also require releases to collect a family's IRS data, or to perform a credit check, to evaluate the family's description of its income compared to its IRS reported income, credit relationships, and recurring financial obligations.

10.8 Verification of Student Status

Pensacola Housing will verify the student status of applicants and participants who declare as students, at admission and on an annual basis. When applicable, Pensacola Housing will also verify student assistance and cost of tuition and required fees.

Acceptable verification of student status includes written verification from the registrar's office or other school official that the student is enrolled during the academic quarter or semester when the family's eligibility review is taking place. School verification must include confirmation of how many credits will be taken and/or full-time status as per the standards of the institution.

If the above listed verification isn't available due to the timing of the regularly scheduled annual review, Pensacola Housing will accept any documentation from the institution that shows the student will be enrolled fulltime and/or how many credits will be taken during the academic year.

10.8.1 Full-time Students and Earned Income

For full-time students who are working, only the first $480 of earned income will be counted toward annual family income, unless the student is the head of household, co-head, or spouse.

Financial assistance in excess of tuition costs and fees received by the student will be included in annual income. However, if student loans are part of the financial assistance package, the loan proceeds will not be included as annual income. Verification of the frequency and amount of funds received is required.

10.9 Verification of Assets and Asset Income [24 CFR 982.516, Notice PIH 2013-3]

As per HUD notice PIH 2013-3, for both applicants and participants, self-declaration will be accepted as verification if net family assets total less than $5,000. Pensacola Housing's application form or recertification paperwork, which is signed by all adult family members, will serve as the declaration. No additional documentation will be required. Note that for HCV program purposes, "current assets" include assets disposed of for less than fair market value during the 2 years prior to the date of the self-declaration.

For applicants and participants whose net family assets total $5,000 or more, the following methods of verification will be used.

10.9.1 Verification of Asset Value

For applicants and participants whose net family assets total $5,000 or more, Pensacola Housing will require information to determine the current cash value of the assets. "Current cash value" means the net amount the family would receive if the asset were converted to cash.

Acceptable verification may include any of the following:

1. Verification forms, letters, or documents from a financial institution or broker;
2. Passbooks, checking account statements, certificates of deposit, bonds, or financial statements completed by a financial institution or broker;
3. Quotes from a stock broker or realty agent as to net amount the family would receive if they liquidated securities or real estate;
4. Real estate tax statements if the approximate current market value can be deduced from the tax assessment;
5. Financial statements for business assets;
6. Copies of closing documents showing the selling price and the distribution of the sales proceeds; or
7. Appraisals of personal property held as an investment.

10.9.2 Asset Income: Interest and Dividend Income

Acceptable methods of verification of income from savings account interest and dividends include the following, in order of preference:

1. Account statements, passbooks, certificates of deposit, or Pensacola Housing verification forms completed by the financial institution;

2. Broker's statements showing value of stocks or bonds and the earnings credited the family (earnings can be obtained from current newspaper quotations or broker's oral verification); or
3. IRS Form 1099 from the financial institution, provided that Pensacola Housing adjusts the information to project earnings expected for the next 12 months.

10.9.3 Asset Income: Interest Income from Mortgages

Acceptable methods of verification of interest income from mortgages and similar arrangements include the following, in order of preference:

1. A letter from an accountant, attorney, real estate broker, the buyer, or a financial institution stating interest due for next 12 months. (A copy of the check paid by the buyer to the family is not sufficient unless a breakdown of interest and principal is shown); or
2. Amortization schedule showing interest for the 12 months following the effective date of the certification or recertification.

10.9.4 Asset Income: Net Rental Income

Acceptable methods of verification of net rental income from property owned by the family include, in this order:

1. IRS Form 1040, with Schedule E (Rental Income);
2. Copies of latest rent receipts, leases, or other documentation of rent amounts;
3. Documentation of allowable operating expenses of the property: tax statements, insurance invoices, bills for reasonable maintenance and utilities, and bank statements or amortization schedules showing monthly interest expense; or
4. Lessee's written statement verifying rent payments to the family and family's self-certification as to net income realized.

10.9.5 Assets Disposed of for Less than Fair Market Value

For all certifications and recertifications, Pensacola Housing will obtain the family's certification as to whether any member has disposed of assets for less than fair market value (FMV) during the two years preceding the effective date of the certification or recertification.

If the family certifies that they have disposed of assets for less than fair market value, verification or certification is required that shows:

1. All assets disposed of for less than FMV;
2. The date they were disposed of ;
3. The amount the family received; and
4. The market value of the assets at the time of disposition.

Third-party verification will be obtained whenever possible.

10.10 Verification of Allowable Deductions from Income [24 CFR 5.611]

This section documents the acceptable verification methods for allowable deductions from income for applicants and participants.

10.10.1 Child Care Expenses

Written verification from the person who receives payment for the child care services is required. If the child care provider is an individual, he or she must provide a statement of the amount he or she is charging the family for child care services.

Verifications must specify the child care provider's name, address, telephone number, the names of the children cared for, the number of hours the child care occurs, the rate of pay, and the typical yearly amount paid, including during school and vacation periods.

The family's certification must address whether any of those payments have been, or will be, paid or reimbursed by outside sources.

If the family's child care expenses are subsidized, Pensacola Housing will accept verification of the co-payment the family is responsible for as verification of child care expenses.

10.10.2 Medical Expenses

Elderly and disabled families requesting an income deduction for medical expenses will be required to submit certification documenting the type of medical expenses and the cost of the family's out-of-pocket portion for the expenses.

Pensacola Housing will consider eligible medical expenses paid by the household during the twelve month period prior to the date of application or the date of the recertification interview.

If the household experiences an increase or decrease in medical expenses between eligibility reviews, Pensacola Housing will not conduct an interim review.

Items or services that have not yet been paid for, that are covered by insurance, or that someone else paid for, are not eligible for deduction.

Medical expenses may be verified by one or more of the methods listed below:

1. Written verification by a doctor, hospital or clinic personnel, dentist, or pharmacist, of amounts paid by the household over the previous 12 months.
2. Receipts, canceled checks, and print-outs for office and prescription co-pays that document the out-of-pocket medical cost incurred by the family for the 12 months prior to the application date or the date of the recertification interview, may be accepted to project annual medical expenses. Pensacola Housing may require the family to submit documentation from the healthcare provider that

- states it is reasonable to assume the health issue is ongoing and will require a similar course of treatment for the next 12 months;
3. Written confirmation by the insurance company or employer regarding health insurance premiums to be paid by the family;
 4. Written confirmation from the Social Security Administration regarding Medicare premiums to be paid by the family over the next 12 months. A computer print-out will be accepted. If available, verification from the EIV system will be the preferred method to verify Medicare premiums;
 5. Copies of payment agreements or the most recent invoice to verify payments made on outstanding medical bills that will continue over all or part of the next 12 months; and
 6. For any transportation-related expense claimed for a medical reason, Pensacola Housing will use mileage at the IRS rate for the distance between the subsidized residence and the facility for medical treatment, based on provider statements of appointments/visits.

In all cases where Pensacola Housing is counting medical expenses as income deductions for an elderly or disabled family, Pensacola Housing will adhere to IRS guidelines regarding permissible and non-permissible medical expenses.

Where the IRS guidelines are not sufficiently detailed, as in the case of some expenses allowable for persons with a disability, Pensacola Housing staff may request verification from a medical professional that the medical expenses are necessary and reasonable.

10.10.3 Disability Assistance Expenses

Attendant care may be verified by one or more of these methods:

1. A reliable, knowledgeable professional's certification that the person with disabilities requires the attendant care to permit him/her to be employed or to function independently enough to enable another family member to be employed; or
2. The attendant's written confirmation of hours of care provided and amount and frequency of payments received from the family or agency (or copies of canceled checks the family used to make those payments) or stubs from the agency providing the services.

Verification of auxiliary apparatus expenses will require:

1. Written certification from a reliable, knowledgeable professional that the person with disabilities requires the use of auxiliary apparatus to permit him/her to be employed or to function independently enough to enable another family member to be employed;
2. Receipts for purchase of the auxiliary apparatus, or proof of monthly payments and maintenance expenses for the same;

3. In the case where the person with disabilities is employed, a statement from the employer that the auxiliary apparatus is necessary for employment; and
4. Family's certification as to whether they receive reimbursement for any of the expenses of disability assistance and the amount of any reimbursement received.

10.11 Verification of Social Security Numbers [24 CFR 5.216]

Social Security Numbers must be provided as a condition of eligibility for all family members who have been assigned a number. Verification of Social Security Numbers will be done through an original Social Security card issued by the Social Security Administration. If a family member cannot produce an original Social Security card, the only other acceptable documentation is an original document assigned by a federal, state, or local government agency that contains the name and SSN of the individual, along with other identifying information.

New family members with an assigned SSN will be required to produce their original Social Security card or provide the substitute documentation described above. This information is to be provided at the time the change in family composition is reported to Pensacola Housing and verified by Pensacola Housing staff. A new family member who is under the age of 6 and does not have an assigned SSN must provide verification of an assigned SSN within 90 days of being added to the household.

If an applicant or addition to a participant household is able to disclose the Social Security Number but cannot meet the documentation requirements, the applicant or addition cannot be admitted to the program.

If the family member states they have not been issued a social security number and is a member of a household whose other member(s) can provide verification of their SSN, the family member will be required to sign a certification to this effect. Pensacola Housing will obtain a HUD issued alternate ID to use until the Social Security number is obtained.

As per HUD notice PIH 2010-3, as of January 31, 2010, existing program participants who have previously disclosed a valid SSN, or who are 62 years of age or older and have not previously disclosed a valid SSN, are exempt from these disclosure requirements.

10.11.1 SSN Verifications for HUD-VASH Clients

If the applicant or participant is participating in the HUD-VASH program, the following documents may also be accepted as verification of Social Security Number:

1. The Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty (DD-214);
2. VA-verified application for health benefits (10-10EZ); or
3. VA-issued photo identification card.

10.12 Verification of Other Non-Financial Factors [24 CFR 982.551 (b)]

This section details the acceptable verification methods for the non-financial program requirements.

10.12.1 Verification of Legal Identity

In order to prevent program abuse, Pensacola Housing will require applicants and participants to furnish verification of legal identity for all household members.

The documents listed below will be considered acceptable verification of legal identity for adults. If a document submitted by an applicant is illegible or otherwise questionable, more than one of these documents may be required:

1. A current, or recently (within the prior 60 days) expired United States driver's license or state ID card;
2. U.S. passport;
3. Veterans Administration issued photo ID card;
4. Certificate of U.S. Citizenship (INS Form N-560 or N-561);
5. Certificate of Naturalization (INS Form N-550 or N-570);
6. Valid foreign passport, with I551 stamp or attached INS Form I-94 indicating unexpired employment authorization;
7. Permanent Resident Card or Alien Registration Receipt Card with photograph (INS Form I-151 or I-551); and
8. Valid Reentry Permit (INS Form I-571).

The documents listed below will be considered acceptable verification of legal identity for minors:

1. Birth certificate;
2. State Birth Registration Card with the child's full name and birth date;
3. Valid or recently (within the prior 60 days) expired state ID card; and
4. Any valid INS document from the list above that documents the child's name and birth date.

If a household member does not contend to have eligible immigrant status and is a member of a mixed family eligible for pro-rated assistance, acceptable verification of legal identity may also include ID issued by any government agency, such as a foreign passport or consular ID.

10.12.2 Familial Relationships

Self-certification will normally be considered sufficient verification of family relationships. In cases where reasonable doubt exists, or in those instances when a family is requesting to add a new member to the household, the family may be asked to provide verification.

The following verifications will be accepted to approve the addition of a dependent to the household:

1. Birth certificates or hospital verification of birth;
2. Official court paperwork of custody assignment or adoption decree;
3. Court-ordered assignment of guardianship;
4. Written declarations of temporary reassignment of custody from a minor's custodial parent or guardian.

10.12.3 Permanent Absence of Family Member

If an adult who was formerly a member of the household is reported permanently absent by the family, Pensacola Housing will consider any of the following as verification:

1. Order of protection/restraining order is obtained by one family member against another;
2. Proof of another home address is provided, such as utility bills, canceled checks for rent, driver's license, or lease or rental agreement, if available;
3. Current pay information from the former household member's employer showing the new address;
4. Statements the family provides from other agencies such as social services, or a written statement from the landlord or property manager that the adult family member is no longer living at that location;
5. If the adult family member is incarcerated, a document from the court or correctional facility stating how long they will be incarcerated; or
6. As a last resort, if no other proof can be provided, Pensacola Housing will accept a self-certification from the head of household, or another adult in the household if the head is the absent member.

10.12.4 Other Changes in Household Composition

Pensacola Housing may verify changes in family composition (either reported or unreported) through letters, telephone calls, utility records, inspections, landlords, neighbors, credit data, school or DMV records, and other sources.

10.12.5 Verification of Disability

For the purpose of qualifying for a deduction from income, acceptable methods of verification of disability are:

1. Receipt of SSI or SSA disability payments under Section 223 of the Social Security Act or 102(7) of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (42 U.S.C. 6001(7)); or
2. Verification by an appropriate diagnostician such as a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, therapist, rehabilitation specialist, or licensed social worker, using the HUD language as the verification format.

If Pensacola Housing is in receipt of either of these types of verification, the individual will be noted as a person with a disability on their applicant/participant record.

10.13 Verification of Citizenship or Eligible Immigrant Status [24 CFR 5.508, 5.510,

5.512, 5.514]

To be eligible for assistance, individuals must be U.S. citizens or eligible immigrants. Eligible immigrants must fall into one of the categories specified by federal regulations, and must have their status verified by the Department of Homeland Security, US Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Each household member must declare his or her status once. A household cannot be admitted to the program until all members who declare that they have eligible immigrant status provide verification of their status. However, assistance will not be delayed, denied, or terminated while confirmation of eligible status is pending from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

10.13.1 Citizens and Nationals

Under penalty of perjury, citizens and nationals of the United States are required to sign a declaration of citizenship. Pensacola Housing will not require citizens to provide documentation of citizenship other than their certification on Pensacola Housing's Declaration of Citizenship form.

10.13.2 Eligible Immigrants

Non-citizens with eligible immigrant status must sign a declaration of status and verification consent form and provide their original immigration documents, which Pensacola Housing will copy front and back and return to the family.

Eligible immigrants who were participants and at least 62 years old as of June 19, 1995, are required to sign a declaration of eligible immigration status and provide proof of age. No additional verification is required for participants who fall into this category.

10.13.3 Verification of Eligible Immigrant Status

Federal regulations stipulate that only the following documents are acceptable as verification of eligible immigrant status:

1. Resident Alien Card (I-551);
2. Alien Registration Receipt Card (I-151);
3. Arrival-Departure Record (I-94); or
4. Receipt issued by the INS for issuance of replacement of any of the above documents that shows that the individual's eligibility has been verified.

A birth certificate is not an acceptable verification of status.

All documents used to verify U.S. citizenship/eligible immigrant status will be kept on file for five years.

10.13.4 Ineligible Immigrants

Pensacola Housing verifies eligible immigration status through the DHS SAVE system. If this primary verification fails to verify eligibility, within 10 business days Pensacola Housing will request that the DHS conduct a manual search.

Individuals who are neither citizens nor eligible immigrants may elect not to contend their status. Ineligible household members who do not claim to be citizens or eligible immigrants will be listed on a statement of ineligible family members signed by the head of household, co-head, or spouse. The family will be considered a mixed family for the purpose of determining subsidy.

Although they are in the country lawfully, non-citizen students on student visas are considered ineligible members of the household for the purpose of HCV assistance. They must provide Pensacola Housing with their student visa, after which they will be listed as an ineligible member of the household, and the family will be considered a mixed family for the purpose of determining subsidy. No further verification or declaration of status is required for non-citizen students.

10.13.5 Timing of Verification of Eligibility

For applicants, verification of U.S. citizenship/eligible immigrant status occurs at the time of admission. For household members added after other members have been verified, the verification must occur before the new member moves in.

Once verification has been completed for any covered program, it need not be repeated except that, in the case of port-in families, if the initial PHA does not supply the documents, Pensacola Housing must conduct the eligibility determination.

10.13.6 Failure to Provide Proof of Eligibility

If a household member fails to sign required declarations and consent forms or provide documents as required, they will be listed as an ineligible member, and the family will be considered a mixed family for the purpose of determining subsidy.

If an entire family fails to provide documentation and sign consent forms as required, the family's assistance will be denied or terminated for failure to provide required information.

10.13.7 Failure to Declare Household Members

If Pensacola Housing determines that an assisted household has knowingly permitted an individual who is not eligible for assistance to reside permanently in the family's unit, the family's assistance will be terminated and the family will be ineligible to apply for housing assistance for 3 years, unless the ineligible individual has already been declared, resulting in a pro-ration of the family's assistance.

10.14 Verification of Waiting List Preferences

The HCV programs administered by Pensacola Housing assist extremely low and very low income households in Escambia County, as defined by federal guidelines. Program guidelines stipulate that at least 75% of the families newly assisted by Pensacola Housing each fiscal year must be extremely low income families. In addition, HUD notice PIH 2013-19 stipulates that PHAs administering vouchers set aside for non-elderly disabled families (NED) must maintain at least a 95% lease up rate for their NED vouchers.

10.14.1 Verification of Extremely Low Income Families

The family's gross annual income (that is, all forms of income received by the family prior to any deductions, and annualized over a 12-month period) will be obtained by using the income verification methods described earlier in this chapter.

The gross annual income will then be compared to HUD's Extremely Low Income Limits for the Pensacola-Ferry Pass-Brent Metropolitan Statistical Area, adjusted for household size, to ensure the family meets the prescribed income limits.

10.14.2 Verification of NED Status

If a NED voucher is offered to a family on the waiting list, Pensacola Housing will verify the head of household's non-elderly status using the verification of identity process described in Section 10.12.1, and will verify the head of household's disabled status using the verification of disability process described in Section 10.12.5.

10.15 Verification of Homelessness

For general HCV program applicants, acceptable methods of verification of homelessness are as follows:

1. Written certification by a public or private facility providing shelter;
2. The police; or
3. A case management/transitional housing/housing search/counseling-providing social services agency, certifying that the family either is currently homeless as of the date of the determination of eligibility, or was homeless for a period during the 12-month period prior to the date of the eligibility determination.

10.15.1 Verification of Homelessness for HUD-VASH Clients

For applicants and participants of the HUD-VASH program, both HUD and the VA use the homeless definition provided by section 103(a) of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act, as amended by the Homeless Emergency Assistance and Rapid Transition to Housing (HEARTH) Act of 2009.

In an effort to make the HEARTH homeless definition a bit easier to understand and apply, HUD has divided the general homeless definition into 4 different categories, which are:

1. Literally homeless;
2. At imminent risk of homelessness;
